Berlin Protests Allied Advance

LONDON, March 8.—Protests against the decision of the allies to occupy German cities east of the Rhine were contained in a proclamation issued in Berlin today by President Ebert of Germany, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin. He declared the action of the allies was contrary to the terms of the Versailles treaty.

LONDON, March 7.—Allied troops will march into Germany tomorrow in accordance with the decision of the allies to inflict on Germany the penalties provided for because of the non-fulfillment of her reparation obligations, it was announced officially this evening.

After the Germans left the conference late this afternoon, the British, French and Belgian premiers telegraphed orders for the immediate occupation by the allied troops of Ruhrort, Duisburg and Dusseldorf.

WILL DONATE
$100 TO LADIES'
HOSPITAL AID, IF:

The Macleod Times management has purchased $500.00 worth of new material to further augment the facilities of what was already probably the best country weekly newspaper plant in the province of Alberta with the avowed intention of giving to Macleod and district the best appearing newspaper published in a country town of 2,000 population in the whole of the Dominion of Canada. All of this material has not yet been received—when it shall have been—and The Times shall have had reasonable opportunity to get it in action in improving the general appearance of the paper the management will offer $100.00 as a donation to the Macleod Ladies' Hospital aid if anyone can produce a newspaper published in any town of 2,000 population in the whole of the Dominion of Canada that will give second place to The Macleod Times in the matter of appearance and style—"The Inland Printer" (the leading printing trades journal of the continent) to make the decision as to merit. Full particulars as to how to get in touch with the best country weeklies in the Dominion through publishers' organizations will be given by The Macleod Times to anyone interested—and the date from which this offer is operative will be published in an early issue of this paper.

NEW PRIMER
CLASS AFTER MIDSUMMER

At the meeting of the Macleod Public School Board held on Wednesday evening of this week there were present: Trustees Fawcett, Day, Stewart and Secretary Brown.

After routine business of receiving reports and passing accounts, the board, after prolonged discussion, decided that owing to the overcrowded condition of the junior rooms it was not feasible to start a new primer class till after midsummer.

U.F.A. MADE
THE GRADE

With the $100,000 objective reached on Monday, the U.F.A. drive for membership is proceeding with renewed vigor, and before a halt is called, every farmer in the province will have been canvassed. This was the statement of H. H. Higginbotham, secretary of the U.F.A. in Calgary on Monday afternoon. The magnificent total realized creates a new record for similar campaigns for farmer's organizations.

WORK ON McLAREN MILL INSTALLATION
AT MACLEOD WILL COMMENCE SHORTLY---
RUMORED 800 MEN WILL BE EMPLOYED

Persistent rumor, bearing the earmarks of credibility reaches The Times to the effect that the McLaren mill installation work at Macleod will re-commence within the next few weeks and that the McLaren Lumber

Company will, in an effort to complete the work within as short a time as possible, put on a staff of from 600 to 800 workmen. This may well be authentic as it is unlikely that the company would wish the work to be interrupted by another winter season and would be inclined to put forth every effort to complete all operations with which cold weather might interfere before such shall have set in this fall.

ALL RUSSIA
IN FERMENT
OF REVOLT

RIGA, March 10.—Three brigades of Bolshevik soldiers in Moscow have deserted and joined the revolutionary forces, it is said in advices reaching here. The action of the soldiers was prompted by the very acute food situation at the soviet capital.

LONDON, Mar. 10.—Reports from Russia regarding the revolution against the soviet regime continues to be obscure and conflicting. A Reuters dispatch from Helsingfors filed yesterday states that a Russian news agency there has issued a statement that the fate of Petrograd is in the balance and denying that revolutionary troops are occupying three-quarters of the city. The dispatch says the insurgents have taken positions in a part of the city which is under fire from Kronstadt and that it is also being shelled by Bolshevik batteries at Boulkovo.

Another Helsingfors dispatch states that an artillery duel has been fought between the fortress of Krasnaya Gorka and several armed trains, and that foreign couriers have been unable to leave Petrograd. The fortress of Petropavlovsk has been badly damaged, it is said.

A message to the London Times from Finland states that the batteries at Kronstadt opened fire yesterday against the seventh Bolshevik division which was attacking revolutionary forces near Oranienbaum.

"The whole of Russia," the message adds, "appears to be in a ferment."

Radicals With Rebels

THE HAGUE, March 10.—According to the Reval correspondent of the Rotterdam Maasbode, Russian radicals recently deported from the United Kingdom are in a ferment.

In the Pearce news of last week the following news item was made to read "we have had no favorable replies"—it should have read as follows: Several weeks ago the Pearce Irrigation Development Ass'n got up a petition which was signed by nearly everyone for the purpose of trying to get water into the Big Bend of the Old Man River, just north of Pearce. We have had two favorable replies to the petition from the parties to whom they were sent, stating that it would be looked into at once. I have no doubt that if the water can be raised high enough so as to get it in the bend we will belong to the South Macleod Project.

Women shouldn't expect to get tall husbands as long as they keep their sweethearts short buying flowers and candy.

DEATH OF E.
J. MULDOON

Elisha John Muldoon died at Macleod on Tuesday, March 8th, after an illness extending over several weeks. The immediate cause of death was a diseased condition of the kidneys.

At the time of his demise Mr. Muldoon was sixty-four years of age, having been born at Jones Falls, Ont., Nov. 4th, 1857. He came to Macleod in 1899 and engaged in the ranching business up till about ten years since, when he retired from active work and took up residence in Macleod. Mr. Muldoon served Macleod honorably and efficiently as councillor for several terms, being a member of the council at the time of his death, and was one of the town's most substantial and honored citizens. He was a Roman Catholic in faith and a staunch member of the church.

Mr. Muldoon's death creates mourning among a wide circle of warm friends in Macleod by whom he was held in high esteem. Those of the family circle who mourn the departed husband and father are his bereaved wife, his daughter, Mrs. M. S. Bryan, of Vancouver, and his son, Harvey, of Kaslo, B. C.

The funeral occurred on Thursday, March 10th, when the rites for the departed were solemnized at the Roman Catholic Church, Macleod, commencing at 10.30 a.m., after which interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The pall-bearers were: M. Jordan, H. Little, P. Gallagher, J. L. Fawcett, J. J. Burke and R. McCrea.

PREMIER OF SPAIN SHOT
BY ASSASSIN

MADRID, March 8.—Premier Dato was assassinated this evening while returning from the chamber in an automobile. He was attacked by several persons who fired a number of shots. The actual assassin of the premier was a man on a motorcycle, who fled. The chauffeur of the automobile in which Premier Dato was riding was also killed.

Capital Horrified

MADRID, March 9.—This city was horrified last night when it became known that Ednardo Dato, premier and minister of marine, had been assassinated while returning to his home from a late session of the Spanish senate. Immediately after the news was received in official quarters arrangements were made to carry on the government until a new premier could be appointed by King Alfonso. The Count De Bugalla, minister of the interior, will act as temporary premier.

All trace of the men who killed the premier was lost in the excitement attending the assassination. Immediately after the crime had been committed the criminals, who were riding in the sidecar of a motorcycle, sped away and disappeared.

Story of Assassination

Premier Dato left the senate chamber at 8:30 o'clock and entered his car, which was waiting for him. A motorcycle with a sidecar carrying two men had followed the premier's car unnoticed, there being many other similar machines on the streets. When the premier's car had reached Plaza Independencia, near Senor Dato's home, the motorcycle increased its speed and camped in the bush for the night.

FIVE MINUTES
SEPARATE TEAMS
AT THE FINISH

THE PAS, Man., March 8.—Four of the eight dog teams, which entered the 200-mile Derby from The Pas to Flin Flon and return completed the trip and only one of these four—morgan, the winner—brought back all his dogs in harness. McKay, Bancroft and Lavalle, finished second, third and fourth, respectively. Goynce, last year's winner, Pranteau and McDonald, quit 20 miles from home and camped in the bush for the night.

The correct result for the dog Derby: Morgan, winner, time, 32 hours 50 minutes; McKay, second, time, 32 hours 55 minutes; Bancroft, third, time, 33 hours 45 minutes; Lavalle, fourth, time, 36 hours. Goynce, Pranteau and McDonald withdrew 20 miles out from the finishing line and they camped in the bush. The first two played out from sheer exhaustion.—Calgary Herald.

INTERESTING
EXPERIMENT

An interesting experiment to co-operation has been arranged by the U. F. A. locals in the Brome, Acadia Valley, Vandyne, Empress View and Bonnie Brier districts; tributary to the Goose Lake line of the C.N.R.

A program of entertainments, including Lectures, Debates, Lantern Slides and other educational features has been arranged by each local. The programs are then interchanged in such a way as to allow each local to have the benefit of the other's work.

Writing from Acadia Valley, Mr. E. C. Hallman reports that the exchange of programs among the U.F.A. locals is proving a signal success. Three of the five tours have been made, and every meeting has been well attended.

"The average attendance so far has been about one hundred. Nothing has contributed so largely to the mental and social activities of the community as this undertaking. Many who have never taken any interest in community welfare, are now enthusiastic helpers. Unexpected talent has been revealed, and latent possibilities unearthed."

The figures secured by the recent census will be given out soon, but we can reassure the ladies that their ages will be given by average and not individually.

An automobile is no sure sign that a man has money.

JUST A HINT
TO TOWN READERS
OF THE TIMES

It is admitted freely that without doubt most of the readers of The Times resident in Macleod have already perused the telegraphic news published in this paper. You read it in your daily paper. Fine—that's as it should be—but many of the readers of The Times who are resident in outlying country districts do not subscribe for daily papers for various reasons—and it is the policy of The Times to cater to the agriculturalists of this district equally with the townspeople on the grounds that the interests of the district and the town are one and the same—therefore kind and indulgent town reader just skip the telegraphic news if you have already read it and pass on to the town items and common interest features of the paper, remembering that few country weeklies publish as great a quantity of local and general interest news as does The Macleod Times.

And if any reader feels that The Macleod Times should print more news pertaining to his or her particular activities, or those of their friends let such come forward and inform this paper of any news in which they may be interested in the publication of and thus confer upon the management a favor while contributing their help towards making The Times a more comprehensive newspaper.

93rd BAT.
CAN. FIELD
ARTILLERYHEADQUARTERS MACLEOD
H.B. STORE TO BE
ARMORY

Colonel D. W. B. Spry D.A. & Q.M.G. of Military District No. 13, accompanied by Major Eaton, of the Headquarters Staff, was in Macleod today in connection with the organization of the 93rd Battery Canadian Field Artillery.

This battery, which is to have its headquarters here under the command of Major Metge, is only one of the many now being organized in Alberta this province having been selected by the Department of Militia to concentrate on artillery and cavalry units.

Colonel Spry went thoroughly into the matter with Major Metge and expressed himself as being very pleased with the prospects here. It is expected that the premises lately occupied by the Hudson's Bay Company will be taken over as an armory and stores depot. These premises are admirable for the purposes required as there is accommodation not only for stores and equipment but also for regimental offices, a gymnasium and accommodation for a club room for members of the battery. It is needless to point out the inestimable boon that this action of the part of the Militia Department confers on Macleod and District. Not only will opportunity be given to the young men of the district to acquaint themselves with the routine of this branch of the armed forces of the crown but arrangements will be made for the fostering of all manner of athletic sports for which generous provision is made by the department.

Major Metge is now receiving applications for membership, the qualifications for which are that the applicant must be between the ages of 18 and 45, of good health and a British Subject. Boys under the age of 18 may be enlisted as trumpeters, etc. In the neighborhood of 70 applications have already been received and as it is only required at present to recruit the Battery up to 75 per cent of the establishment of 108, being 3 officers and 105 other ranks, it would be in the interest of those who have not already submitted their names to make application without delay. The provisional officers selected are Captain Geo. H. Scougall, and F. P. Walshe and R. F. Barnes lieutenants. All those wishing to join should make application either to Major Metge or Captain Scougall, as the lists are shortly to be closed.

WOULD FORM
B. B. LEAGUE

The Times has been handed a letter from A. Morency, of Blairmore, who states that the Blairmore fans would like to get in touch with the Macleod baseball fanatics with a view to arranging a league for the coming season, to be composed of nines from towns between and including Macleod and Fernie—the Blairmore enthusiasts believing that a six-team league could be formed. Attention Macleod fans—let Mr. Morency know what the local idea is and where and when a meeting could be arranged to consider the proposed league.

Some of the best things ever written were considered only mediocre by those who penned them, so who's to be a judge of the best things to read?

GENERAL REMARKS BY AUDITOR—
Would recommend that the council should consider the advisability of depreciating the book valuation of the unsold Town Lots, at present standing at inflated valuation unrealizable ($1,222,105.83). In my opinion a depreciation of 60% would not be unreasonable.

SUNSHINE AFTER RAIN
Though great clouds ascend the sky,
And thunders peal again,
Though lightnings flash, and tempests rage,
There's sunshine after rain.
Though war arise on every side,
Like billows of the main,
The sea will calm, and peace prevail,
As sunshine after rain.
If life be dreary for awhile,
With days of grief and pain,
Have courage, for there always is
Bright sunshine after rain.

Our future may be wrapt in mist,
But fear we should restrain,
The Ruler of the stormy sky,
Gives sunshine after rain.

The clouds that seem so dark to us,
His goodness shall proclaim,
Who trusts in Him, shall ever find,
Glad sunshine after rain.
Rev. Lawrence Sinclair.

LIMERICK IS IN TURMOIL

DUBLIN, Mar. 7.—George Clancey mayor of Limerick, was shot and killed at his home in that city early this morning and his wife was seriously wounded. At about the same time, Michael O'Callaghan, former mayor of the city, was also killed at his residence.

Meagre reports received here state that Mayor Clancey and his wife were shot at about 1:30 o'clock but owing to curfew restrictions, members of the household say they were afraid to venture on the streets to secure aid. They declare that friends with whom they communicated by telephone could not go to the house for the same reason. About two hours later a doctor arrived from a hospital and found Mayor Clancey dead and Mrs. Clancey in a critical condition. Former Mayor O'Callaghan was dying when doctors summoned by the police arrived at the house.

Limerick Greatly Excited
BELFAST, Mar. 7.—Bands of men shot George Clancey, mayor of Limerick, and Michael O'Callaghan, former mayor of that city, in cold blood while they were lying in their beds. Mrs. Clancey, while endeavoring to protect her husband, was shot in one of her arms.

Limerick is greatly excited over the shooting, which is interpreted by Sinn Fein adherents as reprisals for the assassination of Brig-General Cumming, who was killed at Clonbanin on Saturday.

Ambush Near Killarney
DUBLIN, Mar. 6.—Two officers and two members of the ranks were killed when 35 men comprising a military party, were ambushed yesterday afternoon between Killarney and Buttevan. Fighting was still going on last night, according to an official statement, which was issued Saturday.

Gen. Cumming Killed
CORK, Mar. 6.—Brig-General Cumming, commander of the Kerry military area, was one of two officers killed in the ambush of a military convoy in Clonbanin, county Cork, in which a general, another officer and two privates were killed, says a Dublin dispatch to the Central News today. The convoy consisted of five or six lorries and an armored car. The first two cars of the convoy were blown up by a mine, and a fierce fight which lasted an hour, followed, according to the dispatch. Then the armored car managed to reach Kanturk, from which place reinforcements were sent to the scene of the ambush. The attacking party escaped into the hills. —Lethbridge Herald.

MRS. MAISON LIKES PACIFIC MILK
Mrs. Maison says that Pacific Milk has got her to try several other articles that are made in British Columbia. It suits her so much better than any other kind of milk she has obtained that she thought other goods made within the province might be equally above the average. We have heard of Mrs. Maison's good cooking and believe that she is a splendid judge of what milk should be for this purpose. We like to get these letters from good cooks.

RECORD PROMISED IN SPRING STOCK SHOWS THIS YEAR

With such features as will appear at the spring stock shows to be held at Calgary, April 5 to 9, a record not equalled since the beginning of the war is looked for. The Alberta spring horse show programme includes an exceptionally fine list of entries of horses, a parade each evening of the 15 Alberta-bred steers that were shown by the Alberta University at the Chicago International last December; a demonstration by Sam S. (Soldier) and his sheep dogs, which were also a prominent feature of the international, with a grand climax for each day's show in a game of auto polo.

The Calgary spring bull sale, to be held in conjunction with the horse show, is by far the largest auction sale of purebred bulls held annually on the continent, and will again attract stockmen from all parts of the west to select animals for their herds. Only bulls that have passed the tuberculin test will be offered at this sale, which is an innovation in association auction sales that will add greatly to the confidence buyers have in the Calgary cattle sale.

E. D. Adams, president of the Alberta Horse Breeders' Association, and Frank Colliott, president of the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association, the directors and management, are determined to make the forthcoming spring shows and sale the greatest successes yet. The programme outlined above will be, by far, the best ever seen in the Horse Show building and should pack it every night of the show.

Entries for the bull sale closed on March 5, and catalogues will be available within a few days. Horse show entries close on March 10, and prize list for same may be obtained from E. L. Richardson, secretary of the Alberta Live Stock Association, Calgary.

Since the new grandstand and pavilion have been erected at the exhibition grounds, Calgary, visitors and stock men have been loud in their praise of the convenience of these permanent buildings.

Applications have been received for the plans of these two buildings from several places in the United States and Canada, the last request being from the manager of the Western Ontario fair at London, who asked for full particulars regarding Victoria Pavilion. This building is recognized as the most satisfactory cattling, judging and stabling accommodation on any exhibition on the continent.—Calgary Herald.

JAPAN IS FACING ANOTHER PROBLEM

(Special Cable to The Calgary Herald)
TOKIO, March 9.—Having settled their present differences with the United States by apologizing handsomely to Washington for the murder of Lieut. Langdon, and having, at last, quieted Koreans, at least for a few months, Japan has now a real problem on her hands. Baron Den, governor of Formosa, in an interview today, said that he could state on the highest authority that Japan would assume a wider measure of control over Formosa. The mild agitation of a few days ago of Formosan students in Tokyo was resumed yesterday, and nearly a thousand young men took part in a demonstration which taxed all the ready skill of the Japanese city police to quell.—Calgary Herald.

ALL RUSSIA IN FERMENT

States are playing a prominent part in the new revolution in Russia. This correspondent asserts the deported Russians had great expectations of Russia, but were bitterly disappointed when they found that the communistic regime represented "nothing but a sentence to an indefinite term of hard labor without adequate food."

Another Version

LONDON, March 9.—Another version of the situation in Petrograd is given in a Central News dispatch from Helsingfors dated today. This says that fighting is continuing in the streets of Petrograd and that War Minister Trotsky and M. Zinovieff, the soviet governor of Petrograd, were reported to have taken refuge in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul surrounded by a large number of protective troops.

All attempts by the revolutionaries to capture this fortress, the message says, were repulsed.

Conflicting Reports

COPENHAGEN, Mar. 9.—News of the Russian situation today was conflicting with the latest Helsingfors dispatches reporting that the Russian soviet forces had recaptured the fortresses of Krasnoya Gorka and Synterak this morning and were training the big guns of these fortresses upon Kronstadt where fires were observed. An infantry attack by the soviet troops upon Kronstadt is reported to have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces. These were preceded by claims in Helsingfors dispatches that Petrograd was in the hands of the revolutionaries. According to a Reval dispatch, however, the soviet troops recaptured the southeastern suburbs of Petrograd. Thousands of fugitives from Petrograd are clamoring for entry into Finland, the Finnish advices state.—Lethbridge Herald.

PREMIER OF SPAIN SHOT

speed and approached the side of the premier's auto. At that point the streets are quite dark.

When the motorcycle had drawn up even with the auto, the two men in the sidecar and the driver of the machine opened fire upon the premier 21 shots being discharged. The whole tragedy was enacted in a few moments, and as the last shot rang out the motorcycle swung into a side street and vanished.

Had Three Wounds

The driver of the premier's car, hearing the firing, increased his speed but the premier shouted: "I am wounded, stop the car." The chauffeur found the premier terribly wounded about the head but able to speak. He said he believed he was badly hurt. The driver leaped to his seat and drove to a dispensary nearby, where first aid was administered. Senor Dato was conscious when taken from the auto but collapsed in a few minutes and died while at the dispensary. He had three wounds in the back of his head. The car in which he was riding was riddled with bullets.

At the session of the senate which the premier had been attending, the minister of labor had introduced a bill extending the provisions of the labor accident law to agricultural workers.—Calgary Herald.

Briand during the last three days. Speaking of the allied penalties, a cabinet member stated after the adjournment of the meeting: "We must beat them with dignity."

Members of the cabinet who were willing to talk viewed the situation with a show of resignation. They declared nothing would be said or done until the effect of the invasion had been demonstrated practically. Information was received at the chan-

Once in Western Canada

THE people of a great city and its surrounding territory were unable to get their newspapers for a period extending over ten days.

THE business of that city was disorganized and almost came to a standstill—the wildest and most improbable rumors were circulated owing to the fact that the community's source of reliable news was cut off. The newspapers had been forced to cease publication owing to shortage of white newsprint.

THIS condition existed about one year ago and emphasized beyond question the vital importance of the newspaper as a factor in modern life. You cannot live according to modern standards without a knowledge of what is happening in the world. Your newspaper brings that knowledge at a cost to you of less than the white paper the news is printed on.

WITH its discussions of public questions—its great news gathering organizations—its many features and departments, THE CALGARY DAILY HERALD has achieved a high place among Canadian newspapers and is well worthy of a place in every Western Canadian home.

cellory late yesterday afternoon that Belgian billeting squads had appeared near Neuss. Early last evening, the government was advised that contingents of French troops had moved to the edge of the occupation zone and were ready to advance, while others were coming down the Rhine on boats.

The French Advance

PARIS, Mar. 8.—General De Goutte, commander-in-chief of French forces along the Rhine, received orders from Marshal Foch at 8 o'clock last night to advance upon cities the allies had announced they would take over as a result of Germany's refusal to accept the Paris plan for payment of indemnities. A strip of land from eight to ten miles deep on the eastern side of the Rhine will be occupied by French forces, says a telegram to the Journal from Mayence. General De Goutte who will be in command of the operation, left Mayence last night to establish headquarters at Neuss, a town four miles west of Dusseldorf and on the west bank of the Rhine. The first French contingent to advance will be the 77th division, which has been quartered at Bonn and is under command of General Gaucher.

Dispatches from Mayence declare that city was outwardly calm, crowds of townspeople contenting themselves by commenting upon newspaper dispatches relating details of the break in negotiations at London. No special measures were taken by the occupation troops and no resistance to their advance had been apprehended, but belief is expressed here that all military precautions have been taken. "France did not seek a break, but the break occurred," wrote Jacques Bainville, an authority on foreign politics in the Excelsior. "It may be said, however, we do not regret it, for after all, it will bring a solution to the problem."

These words fairly represented the calm mood in which French newspapers received the news from London. Newspapers affiliated with supporters of former President Poincare openly exulted.

Sentiment in the lower classes in France was echoed in L'Oeuvre, which declared: "Then is war going to begin again? Let us hope not. It is merely debt collection and not our fault, if the Germans oblige us to send our best army corps as collectors."

German Delegates Remain

PARIS, March 8.—The departure of the German delegates from London today is by no means certain, according to the Havas agency. It was reported that the German delegates had perhaps not said their last word.

"There seems to be a belief," the London correspondent of the Havas agency adds in his dispatch, "that new instructions from Berlin would reach Dr. Simons, and it is even assured that the German experts have not broken all contact with allied authorities."

Dusseldorf Citizens Warned

DUSSELDORF, March 8.—Inhabitants of this city were warned in a proclamation issued by the mayor today against taking a provocative attitude against allied forces occupying that town. They were asked to be dignified and quiet, to refrain from demonstrations and to keep off the streets. Women and children were especially warned to remain at home. Up to the hour when British, French and Belgian troops entered Dusseldorf, the people knew nothing of the nationality of the forces to be moved into the city, nor was their hour of arrival known. The population was gloomy but was resigned to the situation.

BRUSSELS, March 9.—Dr. Lands-

Recall German Officials

BERLIN, March 9.—It is semi-officially announced that the German officials at Paris and Brussels have been summoned to Berlin.

The experts who co-operated in the preparation of the German counter-proposals met yesterday morning. According to the Berlin Zeitung they try to find a basis for fresh negotiations if the allies indicate a desire for resumption.

THE MACLEOD TIMES CELEBRATES ITS FIRST BIRTHDAY

With this issue of The Macleod Times it celebrates its first birthday—one year old—a lusty yearling.

It is said to be "more blessed to give than to receive" so The Times accepts the truth of this saying and in celebration of its birthday gives to Macleod and district the gift of the best appearing country town weekly in Alberta. We do indeed feel the blessedness of gift giving in this connection—there is nothing too good for Macleod.

The Times appreciates the support it has received from the business men of Macleod and from its subscribers during a year of depression, and our faith in the town and district is evidenced by our expansion.

Within the next few weeks—possibly next week—a number of innovations will be made in The Times contents—a first class serial story will be commenced—home circle reading will be added, as well as some features for children and several minor literary additions and in the aggregate of these we believe we shall be entitled to our readers' appreciation of our efforts to give them an interesting and up-to-date newspaper.

A DEFICIT THAT IS NOT A DEFICIT

The Auditor's Statement for the Town of Macleod appears this week and we have it with interest the statement of the Public Utilities. The Auditor's Statement shows a deficit of something over $9000.00 and to this the Mayor and Council have added some remarks as will be seen from the report. It is stated that a great part of this deficit has been in reality put into capital expenditure, that is, spent on improvements to the plant.

Payments made on the new gas driven engine amount to over $4800.00. This new engine has been responsible for a large saving in fuel, a saving fully up to that estimated as possible by the Superintendent of Utilities at the time of purchase. The balance of the deficit is largely made up by expenditures on maintenance work deferred during the period of the war owing to scarcity of labor and the high cost of material. This work has been to a great extent caught up during the past year, thus making for increased expenditure. It also should be borne in mind that the waterworks, owing to its heavy overhead charges, has for some years past received a grant of $5000.00 per annum from Revenue, and this in 1920 was reduced to $2000.00 leaving that department $3000.00 worse off in comparison with previous years.

With regard to the gas driven engine, we have been informed by the superintendent that the plant now been running alone during the month of February would have been at least $2500.00, or more than the total month's revenue from light.

In conjunction with this report we would refer our readers to the report of the superintendent for the year 1920, published in this paper on February 10th.

The Auditor's Statement and the Superintendent's Report, read carefully, show a very satisfactory state of affairs in regard to the administration of the Public Utilities.

Men make fun of women because they stick so close to the fashions—yet how many men are there going around without hats (a certain preventative of baldheadedness) or wearing decollete shirts (which would be a very comfortable, and not immodest, mode of dress for summer wear).

SILAGE FOR FATTENING STEERS

Beef cattle feeders of Western Canada will be interested in an experiment that is being conducted by A. A. Dowell and G. L. Plack, Department of Animal Husbandry of the University of Alberta, to determine the comparative feeding value of oat silage, oat and pea silage and sunflower silage, for fattening two-year-old steers.

The objects of this test are—first to determine the possibility of profitably converting the cheap feeds of this country into marketable beef, rather than attempting to ship both the feed and the cattle to other sections of Canada or to other countries for the finishing process; second to compare a full feed of silage and grain with a full feed of silage and grain; third to find out which of the silage crops common to this section can be profitably used for this purpose; fourth to compare a light, medium and heavy grain ration with each silage under consideration and fifth to determine the type of steer that can be most profitably fed.

Sixty two-year-old steers were purchased for this purpose, the latter part of October, 1920. Twenty of these would be classed as poor type feeders, twenty as medium quality and the balance were considered good type feeders. They were given a preliminary feeding of about three weeks on oat hay, commonly called oat green feed, and then divided into ten lots with two good steers, two medium and two poor type feeders in each lot. The feeding experiment proper began November 17th, 1920, and the intention is to market early in April.

Every steer in the test is being fed 5-6 of a pound of linseed oil meal per day. Each lot is fed from the same mixture, which consists of ground barley two parts and ground oats one part. They are fed twice daily.

Lot one receives all the sunflower silage they will clean up and a full feed of grain; lot two a full feed of sunflower silage and 2-3 as much grain as lot one, and lot three a full feed of sunflower silage and 1-3 as much grain as lot one. In addition to this, lots 1, 2 and 3 are fed prairie hay—the amount being regulated by the lot consuming the least.

Lots four, five and six are allowed all the oat and pea silage they will clean up with prairie hay regulated as mentioned in the sunflower groups. Lot four receives a full feed of grain, lot five two thirds of this amount, and lot six one-third this quantity.

In like manner lots, seven, eight and nine are fed to capacity on oat silage, with lot seven on a full feed of grain, lot eight on two-thirds grain ration, and lot nine a one-third feed of grain. Each lot is allowed what prairie hay they want, regulated as mentioned in the sunflower groups.

Lot 10 is fed to capacity on a standard ration of prairie hay and grain, and will serve as a check lot on the silage group.

At the close of the feeding period each lot will be valued separately to determine the returns from the different feeds and methods of feeding. Then the two best steers from each group will be sold as one car load, the two medium type feeders as the second grade car load, and the two poorest steers from each lot the car load of poorest type feeders. Though no more than two steers in each car load will have been fed the same, yet the twenty steers of each quality will have been fed and handled exactly as were the other two grades.

Results, which will not be available until late in April, will be of interest to the cattle feeders of this country.

UNIVERSITY WEEK FOR FARM YOUNG PEOPLE

The University week for farm young people will be held this year at the University of Alberta, under the direction of the Department of Extension and the College of Agriculture, from June 8th to June 14th inclusive. For the convenience of districts that have no Sunday train service, it has been arranged that this year the 6-days' course will commence on a Wednesday.

Accommodation will be provided in the University residences for 100 girls and 150 boys, the rate being $10.50 from the supper on June 7th to breakfast on June 15th inclusive. A folder giving all necessary information is now being prepared and will be sent to all who apply for it. Farm young people between the ages of 16 and 25 are invited to attend, and as room will be allowed in order of application, registration should be sent in as early as possible. Inquiries for further particulars and for registration forms should be addressed to the Director, Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

EARLY PROBLEMS IN SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE

In an address delivered before a joint session of the Dairymen's and Agricultural Fairs' Association at Calgary lately, Dean Howes, head of the Agricultural School of the University of Alberta, made some interesting references to the difficulties experienced by scientific agriculture in the 17th century. We give a brief summary of that part of Dean Howes' lecture here because to many of our readers it will be reminiscent of much of the same sort of distrust prevalent in Eastern Provinces not so many years ago.

"In that period of progress in agricultural science which I have roughly described as the first half of the seventeenth century, we find two things militating against any rapid advance in the effect of scientific discoveries upon agricultural practices. I cannot do better than quote a few words from two writers of that time. They will put before you the difficulties and I shall leave it with you if the same difficulties do not obtain, perhaps in a modified way, in the present day. Said one writer—'Some men object that new seeds will not grow here with us, for our forefathers never used them. To these I reply and ask them, how they know? Have they tried? Idleness never wants an excuse; and why might not our forefathers upon the same grounds have held their hands in their pockets, and have said, that Wheat and Barley would not have grown amongst us?' Another writer presents his tale of woe as follows: 'The fourth and last abuse is a calumnious and depraving every new invention; of this most culpable are your mouldy old leavened husbandmen, who themselves and their forefathers have been accustomed to such a course of husbandry as they will practice, and no other; their resolution is so fixed, no issues or events whatsoever shall change them. If their neighbor hath as much corn of one acre as they of two upon the same land, or if another plow the same land for the strength and nature with two horses and one man as well as he, and have as good corn, as he hath been used with four horses and two men yet so he will continue. Or if an improvement be discovered to him and all his neighbors, he'll oppose it and degrade it. What foolish saith he, who taught you more wit than your forefathers?' I prefer to size the situation up in the wise and kindly words of a later agricultural writer who says, 'It took a heavy hammer and many blows to drive a nail through the heart of oak.' So much for the difficulties in the way of those pioneers in agricultural experiment and extension work. Let us look at the other side of the case.

Much of the delay of progress must be blamed upon the agricultural writers of those days. In the first place they were too impatient to have their new ideas put into practice by the farmers and their language was often the cause of the very lack of appreciation of which they complain. No farmer of that day would care to be described as a 'mouldy old leavened husbandman' and one writer advocates compulsory legislation to force farmers 'even like brutes to understand their own good.' This language, to say the least, was imprudent, if the writer wished to get results. But that is only one phase of the story. To quote the words of a critic, 'Their promises were often exaggerated beyond the bounds of belief.' The writers of that day are justly charged with the guilt of retarding agricultural progress, because they made such sweeping claims that in the mind of the practical farmer they bred distrust of all book farmers, no matter whether their claims were based upon actual experiment. Let us take an example, a very important crop was introduced into the country, one which had a good deal to do with revolutionizing English agriculture, and here is what an advocate of this crop had to say about it: 'It is only food for cattle, swine and poultry, sovereign for conditioning 'Hunting Dogs,' an admirable ingredient for bread, affording 'two very good crops' each year, supplying 'very good Syder' and 'exceeding good Oyl.' No, friends, this crop was not sunflowers, it was turnips and the date is 1659, not 1920.

A lot of our troubles are only in our minds, which may be the reason that a lot of us are about half bug-house.

"Your children mean no harm—
Merely indulging in innocent sports—
So she leaned on his proffered arm,
And smiled and chatted and gathered flowers,
As she walked along with the world,
While millions and millions of restless souls
To the horrible pit were hurled.

"Your preachers are too old and plain,"
Said the gay old world with a sneer;
"They frighten my children with dreadful tales,
Which I like not for them to hear;
They talk of hell and fire and pain,
And the horrors of endless night;
They talk of a place that should not be
Mentioned to ears polite,
I will send you some of the better stamp,
Brilliant and gay and fast,
Who will tell them that people may live as they like,
And go to heaven at last.
The Father is merciful, great and good,
Tender and true and kind;
Do you think He would take one child to heaven
And leave the rest behind?
So he filled her house with gay divines,
Gifted and great and learned;
And the plain old men that preached the Cross
Were out of the pulpit turned.

"You give too much to the poor," said the world,
Far more than you ought to do;
If the poor need shelter and food and clothes,
Why need it trouble you?
Go take your money and buy rich robes,
And horses and carriages fine,
And pearls and jewels and dainty food,
And the rarest and costliest wine.
My children do not all such things,
And if their love you would win,
You must do as they do and walk in the ways
That they are walking in.
The Church held tightly the strings of her purse,
And gracefully lowered her head,
And whispered, 'I've given too much away,
I'll do, sir, as you have said.'

So the poor were turned from her door in scorn,
And she heard not the orphan's cry,
And she drew her beautiful robes aside,
As the widows went weeping by.
The sons of the world and the sons of the Church
Walked closely hand in hand,
And only the Master, who knoweth all,
Could tell the two apart.
Then the Church sat down at her ease and said,
"I am rich and in goods increased,
I have need of nothing, and nothing to do
But to laugh and dance and feast."
The sly world heard her, and in his sleeve
He mockingly said aside,
"The Church is fallen, the beautiful Church,
And her shame is her boast and pride!"

The Angel drew near to the Mercy seat,
And whispered in sighs her name;
And the saints their anthem of rapture hushed,
And covered their heads with shame,
And a voice came down through the hush of heaven,
From Him who sat on the throne,
"I know thy works, and how thou hast said,
'I am rich,' and hast not known
That thou art naked and poor and blind
And wretched before My face;
Thus from My presence I cast thee out,
And blot thy name from its place."

"ERIN GO BRAUGH"
Oh fair Isle of Erin, far over the seas,
Oft there I wander, in sweet reveries,
And cherish forever thy fond memories.

The land where the dear little Shamrock does grow,
Where the lakes of Killarney, and the Shannon so slow,
O'er brack, hill and dale, so gently do flow.

Heaven's reflection fell o'er thee, sweet Isle,
With the fairies and blarney and colleens' sweet smile,
Nought mars thy beauty, no thoughts to beguile.

Turmoils and tempests rage o'er thee, dear Isle,
But the "Angel of Peace," will return with her smile,
E'en in "God's own acre," was trouble awhile.

The saints of old Ireland still with you remain,
And will drive all the snakes from your shores once again
And peace and contentment o'er trouble shall reign.

Thy sons and thy daughters, in foreign lands far,
On the day of St. Patrick, wherever they are,
Sing "God bless old Ireland—Erin go bragh."

Don't be a growler. Some people contrive to get hold of the prickly side of everything; to turn against sharp corners and disagreeable things. Half the strength spent in growling would often set things right. You may as well make up your mind to begin with, that no one ever found the world quite as he would like it; but you are to take your part of the trouble and bear it bravely. You will be sure to have burdens laid upon you that belong to other people unless you are a shirker yourself, but don't grumble. If the work needs doing you can do it, never mind about that other who ought to have done it and didn't. Those workers who fill up the gaps and smooth away the rough spots, and finish up the jobs that others leave undone, they are the true peace makers and are worth a whole regiment of growlers.

Picking a vocation is one of the most serious things in life yet so often it is done in a haphazard manner. Few people realize its importance. Not until it is too late do they learn the truth. The chief joy we get from life is in being where one belongs and in doing the things one is best fitted for. Most discontented people are so because they are trying to be something they are not or do something they cannot do.

It is indeed strange that in our gardens we will find just the right soil for our corn, our potatoes, our strawberries or whatever, and when we try to find the correct soil for our sons and daughters we try to grow a lawyer where a carpenter would thrive, or a musician where we should have a school teacher.

"What does it value a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" is another way of saying—Of what use are wealth and power if you have not happiness and contentment.

Isn't it remarkable when good books and papers are so cheap that men and women read so little and neglect the minds God has given them to improve? If we would make our homes and our home life pure, happy and elevating we must seek knowledge on the various topics that are daily discussed. Too many boys and girls growing up now by the time they have entered their teens have cultivated such a taste for trashy, impure literature which is scattered broadcast over our land, that anything solid or that would improve their minds or character is considered dull and uninteresting.

Courage is the thing that most of us need when it comes to facing the hard places in life. Sooner or later we all have the mid face and if we could only learn to march bravely up to them we would find that they lose half their terror. Being afraid of trouble is not going to make it go away. You will have to face it just the same.

The most pathetic obituary ever written can be found in one line in the Book of Chronicles. It tells of an evil ruler—Jehoram, King of Judah and in speaking of his death says, "And (he) departed without being desired."

There is nothing more satisfactory to the human heart than to be needed and to know we are needed.

Why is it that most of us go through life seeing only one side of it—the side related to our own particular sphere? We all miss so much of the beauty and the spiritual side of life because we are so wrapped up in material things. Many farmers can travel through a beautiful stretch of country and never see the loving power of God manifested there at all—only the silos and the corn cribs. A preached might manage to make up a worn out text or two for his Sunday sermon but that would be all. If we cannot see the beauties of this earth, and the golden streets of heaven going to satisfy us?

Woman might not be nearly so charming were she more consistent.

I SAW A SCARLET DRAGON FLY

I saw a scarlet dragon fly
Light on a breeze-bent grass.
He awayed and sung so softly. Oh,
I stopped: I could not pass.

I watched the scarlet dragon fly.
He swayed and swung his fill.
He swung until the breezes ceased
And left the grasses still.

I saw the scarlet dragon fly
Dart off a ways, and then
Fly back and light upon the grass
And make it swing again.

I know now why the dragon fly
Has double wings of black.
He has one pair to fly away
And one to bring him back!

Don't Use Drugs for Constipation

Bathe Internally—the One Natural Way.

Did you ever know of any person who was permanently cured of constipation by taking drugs of any kind? Drugs simply force nature, and larger doses are required from time to time until the trouble becomes chronic.

Internal bathing with the J. B. L. Cascade is the only permanent relief from Constipation. It keeps the Colon, or large lower intestine, free from accumulation. Soon the system performs its regular functions, and there is no further trouble.

Mr. F. Baker, Proprietor Alexandra Hotel, Ottawa, writes: "The J. B. L. Cascade has made a new man of me. I would not sell it for all the money in this world if I could not get another. Through my recommendation I know of a number of my friends who have been using it with the same satisfaction. For people troubled with Constipation, I say it is a godsend, and can heartily recommend it."

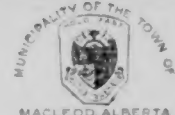

The J. B. L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for Internal Bathing ever devised. It is endorsed by over half a million enthusiastic users. Ask to have it explained to you at A. D. Ferguson's, Druggist, Macleod, Alta., or write for booklet to Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 103 College St., Toronto.

THIS IS NO HOME FOR THE SEA-GULL

Far from the loud sea beaches
Where he goes fishing and crying,
Here in the inland garden
Why is the sea-gull flying?

Fresh is the river water
And quiet among the rushes;
This is no home for the sea-gull
But for the rooks and thrushes.

High on the sea-cliff ledges
The white gulls are trooping and crying,
Here among rocks and roses,
Why is the sea-gull flying?

RETURNED SOLDIERS PROBLEMS

OTTAWA, March 8.—Several interesting resolutions pertaining to the welfare of returned soldiers and their dependents were discussed in the house of commons last night.

The first, which came from Major C. G. Power (Quebec), was that which proposes that amounts may be deducted from pension payments at the request of the pensioner and applied to insurance premiums under the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act, was taken up. Mr. Power said a number of soldiers were now in receipt of pensions so small that the men considered them hardly worth saving. The money was consequently frittered away when it might very well be used to apply on a policy under the Returned Soldiers' Act.

The prime minister said that government departments were inclined to resist the acceptance of assignments. He did not feel, however, that a mere matter of administrative detail should stand in the way of any step that would benefit the returned soldiers. It was the intention of the government to move for the appointment of a joint committee on re-establishment along the lines of the committee which sat last year. He suggested that the proposal embodied in Mr. Power's resolution might be very well taken up by this committee. In the meantime he thought that the resolution might be withdrawn. This was done.

Increase Pensions

The house then took up another resolution of Major Power's, which proposes to pay full pension to widowed mothers of dead soldiers, irrespective of their incomes or whether or not there are other living children. He did not see that there should be any distinction between the wives of dead soldiers and the mothers. Both had made great sacrifices.

Hume Cronyn (London), Dr. Peter McGibbon (Muskoka), Major-Gen. McWhurn, T. M. Tweedie (Calgary), Hon. W. S. Fielding (Queen's-Shelburne) and W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford) all supported the resolution warmly.

Major Power said, in conclusion, that he had been fighting this matter for four years. Year after year it was side-tracked. As far as the joint committee was concerned, he announced that he would not consent to sit on it another year.

In deference, however, to the view of members that more good would be done by allowing the question to come before the committee than by having the resolution defeated in the house, he agreed to withdraw his resolution.—Calgary Herald.

AUDETTE CAUGHT IN ABANDONED BARNBY A.P.P.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 4.—Details as to the capture on Thursday morning of James Audette, who escaped from the A.P.P. cells at Macleod on Tuesday of last week, show that he made his way from Macleod across the river, where he took a saddle horse and rode to Granum. There the horse was turned loose, and found its way home. At Granum Audette obtained another mount, and rode into the Porcupine hills, where, for the past eight days, he eluded the search party who were after him. He was discovered by Corporal Watts, of the A.P.P., who had charge of him when he escaped, in an abandoned barn, asleep with a rifle by his side. It was a case of "hands up," and the taking of the prisoner into safe custody.

Audette was brought before Magistrate Burrell at Macleod, and committed for trial for breaking jail. He will be taken to Calgary to give evidence in the case of the two men, Woods and McLaren, who stand charged, as alleged, with being implicated in the theft of the cargo of grain, in bond in a C.P.R. car on its way from Calgary to Lethbridge, on which Audette and Albert Valle were remanded for trial at Macleod, with bail of $10,000 each. Audette escaped at Macleod while detained awaiting conveyance to Lethbridge through failure to get the necessary bail.—Calgary Herald.

PRES. HARDING'S ADDRESS SPELLS LEAGUE DOOM

LONDON, March 5.—President Harding and his inaugural address are the subject of congratulations and good will in the London press this morning. The newspapers display great interest in the attitude of the United States toward the League of Nations.

The Daily Mail says President Harding is a man who may be trusted to make good use of his great power. The Morning Post expresses the belief that, with the inauguration of Mr. Harding, the outlook for the present and future relations between the United States and Great Britain was never more pleasant or more hopeful. This newspaper says it finds nothing in the president's declaration of policy which suggests conflict between British and American ideas.

The Post finds in Mr. Harding's policy of non-involvement in European affairs, a natural maintenance of the principle on which the constitution of the United States is founded and which does not exclude that association of nations for a definite object, "which is of such incalculable potential value in the world, not only for keeping the peace but for removing occasion for irritation endangering the preservation of peace."

Dooms Nations' League
The address of Mr. Harding is regarded by the Post as virtually pronouncing the doom of the League of Nations. It declares there can be no effective league without the United States as a member. It adds that President Harding's statement on this subject is a "majestic assertion of sentiment of nationality. What the United States offers the world is not abandonment of nationality, but service of nationality in association and, then—a noble gift which we, in this country, will heartily reciprocate."

The Daily News declares it is able to say nothing but "amen" to President Harding's refusal to enter alliances and his aspirations for peace and disarmament. It regrets, however, that he leaves his attitude toward ward the League of Nations indeterminate. The newspaper deplores Mr. Harding's decision for non-involvement in the affairs of Europe. It expresses the earnest hope that the United States will not by contemptuous indifference or passive discountenance, strike a disastrous blow at the hope the league has inspired and thus hurl Europe back into the pit from which it is, with such infinite suffering and difficulty, climbing. The Daily Telegraph says the next chapter in the history will see the quality of the president and his administration put to a hard test, even if it be less terrible than their predecessors faced. It adds that Mr. Harding since his election confirmed that "impression of powerful sanity, unassuming force of character and honest devotion to duty which Europe received when he was chosen."

Back to Old Tried Ways
"He stands for the national craving," the Daily Telegraph continues, "to return, if may be, to the old tried ways in which the United States found prosperity, relative political tranquillity and the general diffusion of happiness that was the envy of the world." After enumerating the problems before the new administration the Daily Telegraph continues: "The people of this country wish well to the United States statesmen who have made himself a warm advocate of cordial amity between his great nation and the British Empire."—Lethbridge Herald.

SENATE CONFIRMS SELECTIONS FOR CABINET POST

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Breaking a precedent which has stood since the days of Washington and Jefferson, President Harding appeared today at an executive session of the senate to present nominations of his cabinet officers. After confirming the cabinet, the senate, still behind closed doors, discussed the programme for extra session and then adjourned until tomorrow.

The cabinet officers as confirmed were:

Secretary of state—Charles Evans Hughes, of New York.

Secretary of treasury—Andrew W. Mellon, of Philadelphia.

Secretary of war—John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON SOIL EXPERT ON SOIL DRIFTING

(From Lethbridge Herald)

In February, Secretary James Rose of the Board of Trade wrote E. O. Holland, president of the State College of Agriculture, Pullman, Washington, with reference to Washington's experience with soil drifting. Pres. Holland turned the letter over to Prof. Sieves, head of the department of soils, for answer, and the following letter was the result:

February 18, 1921.

Mr. James S. Rose,

Sec. Lethbridge Board of Trade, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

My Dear Sir:

Your letter of recent date requesting the information concerning the management of drifting soil, has been referred to me for reply.

We have not available at this station, any publications or bulletins dealing with the management of this soil type, but nevertheless we have had considerable experience in attempting to solve this problem in connection with the Experiment Station work conducted on one of our dry land sub-stations at Lind, Washington, as well as on much of the territory included in the Columbia Basin region.

This soil is of a fine sandy loam type and is exceedingly difficult to handle. Our best results have been obtained by tilling these soils exceedingly early in the spring, in fact, so early that the soil is hardly in the best condition for the preparation of a suitable seed bed. Through this early tilling, however, we succeed in creating a comparatively lumpy or cloddy condition of the surface of the land. These lumps or clods have a tendency to offer a very decided resistance to the air circulation with the result that the velocity of the wind will be checked to a considerable degree. Thus, cutting the velocity down to a rate where it has much less carrying-power and consequently the detrimental effects from blowing can be almost entirely eliminated. If summer fallow practice, however, is delayed until a late date in the season, which practice oftentimes becomes necessary, due to the lack of a thorough distribution of labor on the farm, then we have a problem that is almost impossible to combat.

Theoretically, one means of relieving the situation, is to summer-fallow the fields in comparatively long, narrow strips, running at right angles to the general direction of the prevailing winds. These strips are then alternated between a crop and a summer fallow, and the crop field will offer sufficient resistance to the wind to check it so that it will have very little carrying power when it reaches the strip that is not protected by a growing crop.

In actual practice, the farmer has not taken to this system very kindly because of the fact that it interferes somewhat with the general tillage operations on his farm. With the limited experience that I have, concerning soil conditions in your section of the country, I dare say that you can produce very effective conditions by following the practice of tilling your soil exceedingly early and then instead of using a spike tooth harrow for subsequent tillage work, such implement should be entirely eliminated and a spring tooth harrow substituted. The spring tooth harrow will tend to keep your surface soil loose and kill such weeds as may tend to grow, but at the same time it will not break up the clods previously referred to.

I dare say that you realize also that much of the damage that is done by blowing soil is not the result of a neglect on the part of the farmer that is damaged but oftentimes the condition is produced by the soil blowing onto one farm from another that has been poorly managed. Such a condition of course, can only be controlled by proper co-operation and this is oftentimes not possible.

Yours very truly,

F. J. SIEVES,

Professor of Soils.

CURRENT EMPRESS THEATRE ATTRACTIONS

ALL A MATTER OF CLOTHES

Do clothes make the man? This young man wore an aviator's uniform and the girl thought he was a taxi-driver. She wore fine clothes and he thought she must be some millionaire's favorite child. But she was just a check-room girl in the hotel, masquerading for one brief hour as a mannequin in a fashion show. Of course truth, like murder, will out. But even after he discovered that she was a poor girl and she found out that he was a millionaire, they still loved each other. Don't miss the laughs that crowd "You Never Can Tell," with beautiful Bebe Daniels as the star and handsome Jack Mulhall playing opposite her. Coming to Empress Theatre next Friday for a 2 day run. A Realart picture.

MAY ALLISON WILL WEAR BOBBED HAIR
Metro Star Will Be Seen in New Picture of Greenwich Village

"Are All Men Alike?" starring May Allison will be the feature attraction at the Empress Theatre beginning next Monday. This latest vehicle of the captivating Metro star presents her in the role of a rich young woman possessed with the idea of living her life in her own way, without let or hindrance. As such it carries the headstrong heroine into all manner of adventures in the Bohemian quarter of New York's night life, where she encounters men and men, and is finally rescued from a perilous plight by one man who was unlike all the rest.

"Are All Men Alike?" is Miss Allison's latest starring vehicle, and is conceded by many critics who have reviewed the picture to be her best.

Briefly told, the story recounts the mishaps attendant upon the irregular order of life known as Bohemian and of the pitfalls that await young girls who deem themselves well able to take care of themselves under any circumstances whatever.

"Teddy" Hayden is an heiress not only of millions but of the will to have her own way, inherited from her self-named father. Being of age she insists upon taking up her quarters in New York's Greenwich Village and of becoming an artist among the artists.

Miss Allison is said to shine with exceptional lustre in the part of "Teddy" Hayden. Supporting her is a notable cast including Wallace McDonald, John Elliott and Ruth Stonehouse. A. P. Younger adapted the production from Arthur Stringer's novel, "The Waffle Iron," which was published serially in McClure's Magazine. Philip E. Rosen directed the production.

THE EVENT OF THE SEASON

Artie Marks and Association Players are coming to the Empress for a 2 day engagement, March 21 and 22. By the advance reports from leading newspapers throughout the country in our leading cities, Miss Marks must have an exceptionally strong company with a big variety of entertainment. This company has been recommended to me as the best of its kind on tour in America, and I personally will guarantee that any of my patrons who witness this company and do not acclaim it the best stock company that has ever played Macleod compliment their tickets during the balance of the engagement. Signed, Manager F. Cutler.

We ourselves are the only people who have real trouble—our neighbors imagine or enlarge theirs.

LUMBER CAMP'S FORM BACKGROUND FOR NEW MITCHELL LEWIS FILM

One of the strongest stories of the North that has ever been filmed will be seen at the Empress Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday next, when Select Pictures presents Mitchell Lewis in Mr. Lewis' latest production, "Faith of the Strong."

In this attraction Mr. Lewis is seen as Paul La Rue, a man whose word is law to the lumber camp of Louis Rey. La Rue fears neither man nor God, and the friction between the lawless element and the supporters of the church becomes so acute that La Rue threatens to burn the church. Jean Pollet learns of La Rue's threat, and he himself burns the church while attempting to steal little Babette, the motherless waif and ward of the camp. A fight follows and Babette is rescued, but La Rue is carried to the minister's house in a dying condition. There he meets Ena, a girl who has tried to drown herself in the river, and believing that he is nearing death, La Rue marries the girl to save her from disgrace.

However, in the end, La Rue recovers his strength, and also goes to care for the girl, but she is unable to return his love. Then La Rue loses faith even in God. He challenges the minister to give him proof that God really exists and the challenge does not fall on barren ground. La Rue gets his proof, and with it comes the faith that makes him the happiest man in the North.

SIX STEPS UP TO STARDOM

When a player only needs six appearances in straight motion picture drama to merit stardom, doesn't it stand to reason that the person has more than ordinary personality and magnetism?

And yet six pictures represents the total of the Bebe Daniels experience in dramatic pictures before she started work as a Realart star.

Of course before that time she played opposite Harold Lloyd for four years in comedy. This gave her an excellent background for her later work.

This, however, does not take away from the fact that her rise in serious drama is one of the most remarkable things of recent film history. It is indeed unusual for a player to establish a following worthy of stardom in such a very limited time.

The six pictures in which Miss Daniels appeared as a leading woman are "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife?", both Cecil B. De Mille productions; "The Dancin' Fool" and "Sick Abed," with Wallace Reid; "Everywoman," a George Melford production; and "The Fourteenth Man," with Robert Warwick.

Her success in this half-dozen and the great wave of complimentary letters which came in from all over the country gave quick testimony to her popularity.

"Good Little Bad Girl" parts proved best for her, and when Realart signed Miss Daniels it was with the idea of featuring her in that style of production. "You Never Can Tell," her first star offering, is the story of a hotel check-room girl who nearly gets her wings burnt, only to be saved by a real love for a supposed taxi-driver who proves to be a young millionaire. It was scenarized by Ton Geraghty and Helmar Bergman from two Saturday Evening Post stories by Grace Lovell Bryan. Chester Franklin directed the production. It will appear at the Empress theatre for two days, beginning Friday.

HE DELIVERS THE GOODS

There's a man in this world, who is never turned down, Wherever he chances to stray; He gets the glad hand in the populous town Or out where the farmers make hay. He's greeted with pleasure on deserts of sand, And deep in the aisles of the woods; Wherever he goes there's a welcoming hand, He's the man who delivers the goods.

The failures of life sit around and complain The Gods haven't treated them white; They've lost their umbrellas whenever there's rain, And they haven't their lanterns at night.

Men soon tire of failures who fill with their sighs The air of their own neighborhoods; There's a man who is greeted with love-lighted eyes, He's the man who delivers the goods.

One fellow is lazy and watches the clock, And waits for the whistle to blow; And one has a hammer with which he will knock,

And one tells a story of woe, And one, if requested to travel a mile, Will measure the perches and rods; But one does his stunt with a whistle and smile, He's the man who delivers the goods.

One man is afraid that he'll labor too hard—

The world isn't yearning for such; And one man is ever alert—on his guard—

Least he put in a minute too much One has a grouse on, a temper that's bad, And one is a creature of moods; So it's me for the joyous and rollicking lad, For the man who delivers the goods Author Unknown

NIECE OF LOCAL LADY SOME SKATER

The following from a Toronto paper refers to the niece of Mrs. Chas. Clarke, Rathwell, and will evoke some local interest in that the new champion skater visited her aunt here last year for two months and made many acquaintances and friends during her short stay at Macleod:

"They do say that to win glory one must leave his or her home town. And it certainly is the order of things in a lot of cases. It goes in sport as well as in business and it fits the case of Miss Gladys Robinson (Mrs. Blaber) right down to the ground. The new International ladies' skating champion is a Toronto born girl and like the majority of other prominent athletes of this city is a product of the north end. Since her recent success at Lake Placid where she beat the best in North America much has been said about her. But prior to that she did not receive the credit that was hers. It was about five years ago that she first took up speed skating and it was at the Aura Lee rink where she learned to use the old "springs" and then graduated to the speeders.

Credit to Cosgrave "She attributes much of her success to the coaching of Basil Cosgrave, who himself is a well known skater. A number of others around the city are telling their friends of their assistance to Miss Robinson but the champion herself says this is untrue and gives "Cosy" all the credit. To "Bill" Marsden of the Aura Lee Club, too, she is much indebted because it was his generosity in allowing her to use the ice at Aura Lee during the mornings, afternoons and nights that enabled her to learn all the tricks of the skating game and to train as speed skaters must. Mr. Marsden also helped her in every way possible. It might be mentioned that Miss Robinson represented the Aura Lee Club at Lake Placid and it was the Red and White of the Avenue Road Club that she flashed across the line every time she won.

Skating Five Years "As said before Miss Robinson has been skating for about five years. Most of her skating has of course been around Toronto where in recent years many local races were staged. She was the class of the lady skaters and though the opposition was not strong she maintained the strict training. Last year she went to Lake Placid for her first visit to foreign ice. She did not win the honors but she finished in third place in the championships. This season she set her heart on winning the International title. She trained hard and though she went unheralded to Lake Placid and made no proud boasts of what she would do, she turned the trick.

Set World's Records "And in doing this and in defeating Miss Rose Johnson of Chicago, last year's champion, she set several marks that may stand for a long time. In the one hundred yards, standing start, she travelled the distance in twelve seconds flat, a new world's record. In the one-sixth of a mile she went the distance in thirty-two and two-fifths seconds for another world's record. And in the 440 yards she equalled the world's record. That is a feat that Miss Robinson should be well proud of. And Toronto should feel proud of Miss Robinson. She returned home from Lake Placid without any fuss, but it looks to The Telegram as if the skaters of Toronto should get together and show in some way their appreciation of the great honor Miss Robinson has brought to this city. Champions in many lines of sport have been honored when they brought Toronto into the limelight and none of them has accomplished any more than Miss Robinson. It might be mentioned that the skates used by Miss Robinson were those made by Albert Johnson of Chicago, who after her success at Lake Placid presented her with a diamond studded medal."

The interprovincial seed weed train arrived in Macleod on Thursday, and was well received by a great number of farmers, who crowded the cars from the time it reached the platform until it left at 12:30. The machinery car was a great attraction on account of the new view points that were given by those in charge. The seed car was packed all the time—first by the farmers, and then by the school children from the 6th grade up to, and including, the high school. The lecture car was a center of interest, and much valuable information was given by the lecturers. The train left at 12:30 for Pincher Creek, and was in charge of Trainmaster Smith, who was accompanied by Supt. McIntosh.

An Irish Aerdale dog which had been teased by some children ran amuck on main street on Wednesday afternoon, snapping at pedestrians indiscriminately—the animal gave the impression of madness and created considerable apprehension on the part of those who witnessed its progress. Eventually the dog bit young Charlie Roach, inflicting a nasty wound below the knee. Medical attention was given the youngster and it is not believed he will suffer any serious inconvenience from the unpleasant experience as it is supposed the dog was frantic from the baiting it had undergone from the children and was not affected with rabies. The animal was killed later by Dr. McAfee.

PANIC HITS PETROGRAD—GUNS ROAR

COPENHAGEN, March 9.—Petrograd is reported to be in the hands of revolutionary forces which for several days have been fighting against Russian Bolshevik troops near that city, says a special dispatch from Helsinki received here this morning. A revolutionary force was victorious, the dispatch declares, after a terrible bombardment of Petrograd from Kronstadt, Krasnoya, Gorka and Systerbak, which was followed by machine gun battles in the streets of the city.

LONDON, March 9.—Eight ships of the Baltic fleet participated in the bombardment of Petrograd, says a Riga dispatch to the London Times. A panic followed among red troops and communists. The whole garrison at Oranienbaum, consisting of five regiments, deserted to the revolutionaries after shooting all the regimental commissaries and communists and also captured two ice-breakers between Petrograd and Kronstadt.

The Bolsheviks have sent agitators to Kronstadt with gold to try and check the revolt.

Another Soviet Fortress Gone
RIGA, March 8.—The fortress of Krasnoya Gorka, which was reported to have joined the revolutionaries, was relied on by the soviet government to quell the Kronstadt uprising. The soviets had threatened to blow up Kronstadt from Krasnoya Gorka if the rebels in Kronstadt did not surrender.

A Soviet Story

LONDON, March 9.—Workers in soviet Russia are indignant over the revolutionary uprising at Kronstadt and are beginning to be allowed to fight against the forces engaged with soviet troops there, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow. It is said in the dispatch that "friction is beginning to be noticed among the mutineers."

The tenth congress of the Russian communist party opened at Moscow yesterday under difficult circumstances the dispatch states.
"The republic is surrounded by an endless number of enemies," it continues. "The short breathing spell given Russia has been interrupted by new allied intrigues. The task confronting the republic must be carried through at a time when she is struggling against counter-revolutionists."—Lethbridge Herald.

SHEEP

The sheep in the upland pasture are woolly and gray and shy. Afar from the old farm buildings, The highway rambling by.

As soon as the spring days lengthen And first frail blossom smiles, Back to the rocky pasture The gray flock gladly files.

All snug in the shady thicket— Such half-wild creatures there, They love the stormy weather As well as days more fair.

Sometimes when the wind is eastward We hear a faint, low bell, To tell that the sturdy leader Stands by, and all is well.

At salting time in the summer They gather from far and wide, The old bell-wether running, The lambs at their mothers' side.

And finally in the autumn, When skies hang dark with storm, Once more the sheepfold shelters The gray flock, safe and warm.

LEAGUE PAYROLL IS HUGE

London—The strongest guaranty that the League of Nations has come to stay is the length and strength of its payroll. Four hundred functionaries supposedly skilled in the art of regulating world affairs are receiving salaries large enough to insure the league against any breaking up from the inside.

Forty thousand dollars a year is the emolument of the league's secretary-general.

The assistant secretary general receives $20,000 and his two assistants $10,000 apiece.

The section directors are paid $8,000 a year each.

The librarian gets $5,000 and each of his ten assistants half that sum.

The busiest officer is the secretary of world labor, who is paid $24,000 every twelve months. Out of his salary he is forced to entertain the representatives of the labor parties from all over the world, most of whom are Socialist delegates with restricted expense accounts.

The chief of the bureau of inquiry on bolshevism signs the payroll for $5,000 a year, which is not excessive for a man holding so delicate a position. He is paid to report the progress of the soviet government, at the same time being aware that when he reports that bolshevism is dying his job will die with it; whereas if the Bolsheviks attain really national power they will send a representative to the league and the bureau of inquiry will cease to exist.

Three hundred and fifty-seven employees insure the working of the many national committees. Each nation employs about two dozen of these minor functionaries. The total League of Nations personnel, four hundred in all, have at least one opinion in common—the League of Nations must be kept going at all costs.

ONLY A PRINTER

"He is only a printer," we overheard such a remark recently on the street from a member of aristocracy. We did not reply in kind, but we thought a plenty.

Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. The former emperor of China was a printer, as is the president-elect of the United States. What were G. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Gales, Charles Richardson, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Charles Dickens, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron and Schuyler Colfax? Printers—all and practical ones. Mark Twain, Amos Cummings, Bret Harte and Opie Read were plain practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nashby and Sut Lovingood. The leader of science and philosophy in his day, Benjamin Franklin, made it his boast that he was a journeyman printer.

In fact, thousands of the most brilliant minds in this country are to be found toiling in the publishing houses of large cities and towns. We have found it a hard life, but it is not everyone that can be a printer—brains are absolutely necessary.

An aggressive country weekly can make a community, or lack of it, break a community. It can lift a struggling neighborhood up to prosperity. It is the tie that binds the home, church and school together. This is the opinion of A. W. Hopkins, of the Department of Agricultural Journalism of Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

"Once established, the country weekly can be of great assistance in making a live community," he says. "Backing all the valuable and worthwhile social or business enterprises is a regular part of its duties. Many a success has been built because of the help given by the local newspaper. Familiarity with its readers is the foundation for the success of the country weekly," says Mr. Hopkins. "Printing a record of all births, marriages, deaths, and the various fortunes of its readers will help make a place for itself in the homes of its readers."

"Since farming plays a basic part of the prosperity of nearly every rural community, the news of the farm should have an important place in the paper. An increasing number of weekly papers are solving the problem of printing agricultural information and news," he says.

When people want to interest distant friends in their home town they send away copies of the local paper.

When anyone wants to know what kind of a place a distant town is he sends for a copy of the local newspaper.

When the merchants are full of courage and advertise freely, an impression is created among the many people living outside of town who see the paper that this is a wide-awake little business town. If at times the merchants let up a little on their advertising, the town does not look so good to outsiders.

In supporting the home paper, therefore you not only get the local business news, but you help on all civic causes, you are enabled to participate to the fullest extent of its life, and you help the town exert influence and create a favorable impression outside.—Successful Farming.

HARD BOILED

The sweet young thing was being shewn through the locomotive works. "What is that thing?" she asked, pointing with her dainty parasol. "That," answered the guide, "is an engine boiler." She was an up-to-date young lady, and at once became interested. "And why do they boil engines?" she inquired again. "To make the engine tender," politely replied the resourceful guide.

When you see a man with a red nose you can usually be assured that it has not been done in water colors.
